BREVITIES.

J. F. Condon of Verdi was a visitor to Reno yesterday.

H. Lator's stock of overcoats can't be beaten anywhere in quality or price.

Geo. S. Nixon of Winnemucca spent Sunday here visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lee.

Pearl gloss tooth powder is absolutely harmless. Sold by Reno Drug Company. oc5w1

Furniture suitable for furnishing three rooms is offered for sale. See 50 cent ad.

For any kind of a hot or fancy mixed drinks consult Spiro Francovich at the Wine House.

Rubstaller's Gilt Edge beer at the Wine House. Also all kinds of hot and fancy drinks.

John L. Gilson an old pioneer of the State, died on the 20th inst at his home in Ash Canyon, near Carson.

The reduction sale at Emrich's on account of temporary removal is still going on and purchasers will do well. n23tf

Captain Wilde of the U. S. Navy predicts that a war with Spain is inevitable and he has fixed 60 days as the limit of peace.

Geo. Neece, the Associated Press operator at the Gazette office, had a narrow escape in a runaway accident while driving to Virginia Sunday.

James Cotton of the Western Meat Company shipped six cars of hams west yesterday. A train load of sheep passed through from Lovelock for the same company.

Henry Ritter's lunch to-day will be extra fine. Soups, salads and other appetizing dishes will be on the menu. Cold lunches and Kepp & Street tamales always on hand.

Messrs. Muller & Stumpf of the Pabst Agency carry an excellent stock of wines and liquors. The wines are especially adapted for medicinal purposes. Orders filled in quantities to suit and all goods guaranteed. If Thyres will serve clam chowder, spiced herring, lobster salad and other delicacies for lunch to-day. Oyster cocktails served on the side in place of water, and Upon tamales from noon until midnight.

Don't fail to attend the meeting at the Court House this evening. Congressman Newlands and President Stubbs will speak on matters of public improvement for the city of Reno. Ladies are especially invited.

Jas. F. Dennis, the attorney, has commenced suit against the Southern Pacific for $17,850 for services rendered. Mr. Dennis has acted as the company's attorney in Western Nevada for some four years or over.

Read the new ad of S. Jacobs in today's issue. He has just received a splendid line of winter suits for men and boys, also overcoats, sweaters, heavy underwear, etc. Now is the time to select and take advantage of his cut price sale.

Professors Irelan and Ogden, geologists, are on the Comstock and will make a thorough inspection of the Brunswick lode with a view of ascertaining whether it will be advisable for the owners to more extensively prospect the lode.

Sauer & Grob have added a fine cash register to their market fixtures. Their line of meats, sausages, beach cheese and other delicacies would be creditable to the finest stalls in the San Francisco markets. All orders filled promptly and carefully.

John Sunderland's announcement in a day or two will be a surprise. The finest of men's and boy's overcoats at astonishingly low figures. Also winter suits, furnishing goods, sweaters. Now is the time to buy boots and shoes for the winter, and his stock in this line is as complete as any house on the coast.

The Porteous Decorative Company has just received a line of beautiful etchings, plain and colored, Paris panels, pastels, studies, round gold frames, easel frames and a fine line of artists' materials. For a Christmas present there is an opportunity for an appropriate selection. Watch their window display.

The display of good things in Block & Chusen's show window last evening would have earned a dyspeptic or afforded the most fastidious epicure an opportunity to order an elaborate meal. There were young pigs for roasters, ducks, chickens, porterhouse and tenderloin steaks, sausage, celery and other relishes, vegetables and delicacies innumerable. Take dinner there to-day and you will feel that you are a prince.

I have just received a complete and well selected stock of gents' furnishing goods: underwear, overshirts, socks, suspenders, handkerchiefs, ties, etc., which I guarantee to be equal if not better than any in the town, which I will sell at prices that defy competition. My stock of domestic and imported cigars and tobaccos is complete in every particular, comprising such brands as the Nerve, Carl Dunder and Royal in the 5-cent goods, and El Belmont, Sanchez, Hays, De Vallens, International, Hotel Brunswick, General Arthur and many others in the imported goods. Call and be satisfied. Free employment office in connection with the store. If A. NELSON.

OPPOSED ANY PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION.

Principal Howe of the Carson Schools Explains His Action.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—In a recent issue of the JOURNAL I was severely criticised because of a public manifestation of my sympathy for Julian Guinan. I take it for granted that every right minded citizen highly esteems the good opinion of his neighbors, and that he does not like to be regarded as deficient in ordinary good judgment or discretion, hence this communication. Please note the following:

When I was requested by my pupils to sign with them a note of sympathy to their classmate I declined because of existing circumstances as to time and place. I told them that what they contemplated was of questionable propriety. This took place in the street and was known to no one save the parties concerned.

After the school had been dismissed for the recess I wrote the following note to a pupil whom I greatly esteem and who was in sore trouble:

"Keep up your courage, my boy. We all hope the best for you."

"Your teacher and friend,"

"H. H. Howe."

This was not publicly done. Pupils had gone to their homes.

On Thursday evening, November 11th, I was informed by the Vice Principal that the Senior Class would probably visit their comrade on the following day and that she had been requested to accompany them. I strongly advised her not to do so, and directed that the matter must not be considered in the school. A part of the class made an effort to see their friend after school was dismissed on Friday.

I have never discussed any phase of the trouble with pupils in the school or out of the school, save as above. I have never even alluded to it in school hours, save to say on one occasion that the school was neither the time nor the place for such matters.

I have made no effort to conceal or make public what has occurred. As I understand the matter, so far as it relates to pupils, it was simply an outburst of sympathy for a comrade highly esteemed, and was manifested without much thought of propriety.

In conclusion, permit me to say that I sympathize with all the sorrowing ones connected with this very sad affair.

Respectfully,

H. H. HOWE.

Carson, Nov. 23, 1897.

The Cattle Market.

Jim Miller, the cattleman, sold a bunch of cows and steers on Saturday and received 7½ cents per pound.

Mr. Miller, who represents the Keough Bros., Eastern buyers, is ready to contract for steers from 100 to 20,000 head at 7 cents and will put up $5,000 as an evidence of good faith. In fact his firm is ready to contract for any number of cattle at that price to be delivered at points along the line of the Central Pacific. Mr. Miller, during the past year, has paid out over a half million dollars for stock for the Keough Bros., distributed as follows: Modoc county $200,000, Lassen county $150,000, Plumas county $100,000, and Sierra $150,000. Within the last couple of weeks his payments for cattle has amounted to $52,000. It is expected that the Keough Bros. will ship from Reno alone within the next twenty days 100 cars of cattle or about 2,000 head in round numbers.

The market holds up, the price ranging from 7 to 8½ cents according to character and quality. It is believed that prices will get stronger before the first of the year.

Football at the University.

Manager Fulton, of the football eleven of the University, is in receipt of correspondence from the manager of the team of the University of California stating that the Second Eleven of that institution would come to Reno to contest with our boys on Saturday, Nov. 27th. The U. of N. boys have concluded to try their strength on the gridiron against the sons of the Golden West, and will indulge in vigorous and earnest practice from now until Saturday. The condition of our boys is much improved from that of last year, as a result of better and more proficient coaching, and it is safe to say that the California boys will dearly earn all they make at the coming contest.

What our boys want now is encouragement from the public, and the presence on the sidelines of some of our townspeople would add greatly to the spirit of the practice.

Saturday will be a gala day at the University. The students will be out on parade to urge on the team with their college yells and good cheer, and we trust that our sport loving citizens will encourage the boys by their presence.

The University Minstrels.

During the football season, the Athletic Association of the University incurred some debt from purchasing new suits and hiring a coach from California. To pay off this debt the boys have organized a minstrel troupe from their own members and will appear before the public for the first time on next Saturday evening at McKissick's Opera House.

The latest songs and music will be presented by the best talent of the institution, as well as dancing, tumbling and all the comic acting that usually accompany a minstrel show. No pains have been spared to make the affair a success, and those who witness the performance may be assured of a pleasant and enjoyable evening.

Holidays are approaching. Many articles needed can be bought very cheap at Emrich's. n23tf

A number of citizens of Reno have signed a request to Mr. Newlands to address the people of Reno this Tuesday evening at the Court House on the subject of town improvements. Mr. Newlands has had considerable experience in the matter of public works and takes great interest in the subject and no doubt he will be able to offer many suggestions which will advance Reno's efforts towards permanent improvement. Dr. Stubbs will also address the meeting and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. A two board sidewalk was ordered to be placed on the east side of Sierra street from 6th to 9th streets.

A contract was let to the Burke Bros. to construct a stone crossing across from the Riverside Hotel to the corner of Mill street.

Under a suspension of the rules the bill of John Barrett for labor was taken up and paid.

Action in relation to the bids on plans and specifications for water and light plants and bonds was deferred and the bids ordered numbered and laid upon the table temporarily or until the Supreme Court had rendered its decision regarding the act authorizing the incorporation of Reno.

YAWN, AND LAUGH OFTEN.

Scientists Declare That Both Are Highly Beneficial.

It is not so very long ago since a foreign scientist discoursed on the benefits of yawning. This act, which is generally regarded as partaking of the nature of a tired condition, or symptom of such a condition, of the respiration and of the need for fresh air, is said to be of great service in clearing the eustachian tubes of the ears. These tubes lead from the back of the mouth to the inner side of the ear drum, and a yawning is looked upon in this light as a hygienic exercise which benefits the structures in question.

Another scientist has no difficulty in showing that when we laugh we increase the play of tension in our lungs. One result of this increased tension is to arrest the blood flow in the lungs and to induce the taking of deep inspirations. These latter are healthful things, for many parts of our lungs are not called into active use in ordinary breathing. The apex, or top of the lung, is notably a part which does not actively participate in the movements of breathing, and as this is the special seat of consumption attack we may reasonably hold that the law of disease explains the greater liability of this portion of the organ to the onset of disease. The free and active use of a part, strengthening and toning it, as it were, is an essential condition for health; hence laughter, by bringing into play the whole of the lungs, or at least by favoring an increase of lung work, is to be reckoned an admirable exercise.

Besides this physical effect of laughter we have also to take into account its mental side. There is a certain brain stimulus to be noted, a psychic result, in addition to the physical effect, and it is pretty certain the mental phase of a good, hearty laugh is, in its way, as healthful as is its physical aspect. Singing is also praised as an excellent lung exercise, and public speaking is as effective a lung tonic as one may wish for. The only drawback to the work of the speaker is the foul condition of the atmosphere in which he has often to do his work.—Exchange.

SEEBACH AND THE AGENT.
A German Story of an American Attempt to Room a Sewing Machine.
The following story, which was published in German in connection with the death of Marie Seebach, the noted German actress, shows very well the conception of American affairs which still prevails in Germany to a certain extent. Seebach was here more than 20 years ago, and it is scarcely possible that such an incident as is described would have taken place then, but many such stories are told in Germany today
as illustrative of American enterprise.
According to this reminiscence Marie Seebach one day received a message that a gentleman wished to see her. She told the servant to send him to her drawing room in the hotel, and when he arrived he introduced himself as a certain Colonel Smith. Then he plunged at the object of his visit and said that he represented a certain well known
make of sewing machines.
"I have already heard," he said,
"that you are a great artist. I want to find out if you are a good business woman as well. Do you want to make some money?"
"Oh, I've no objections to make to that," she said, "if it is possible in a perfectly correct and dignified way."
"Oh, it's in the most correct way possible that I propose," the visitor continued, "and I offer you $10,000 for doing it."
"What have I to do in return?" asked Seebach.
"Nothing in the world," the colonel replied, and as he noticed the expression of astonishment on her face he went on: "I told you that I came from a sewing machine company—one of the largest in the world. All that I demand of you in return for the $10,000 is that as Marguerite in the spinning wheel scene from 'Faust' you will use one of our sewing machines instead of the wheel, and just keep it in motion for a few seconds. Then we would let handbills drop from the gallery, saying that the machine used by Marie Seebach
was made by our firm."
The actress is said to have hesitated
for a second, but in the end, her respect for Goethe's tragedy is described as the feeling which saved her artistic reputation.
This story is of a type that disappeared from general use 40 years ago.
It is of the kind told about P. T. Barnum in the earlier days of his career,
but stories of the kind still pass muster in Europe, although a press agent who attempted anything of the kind in this country would soon lose his job.—New York Sun.

The Baron's Order.
A worthy Welsh baronet, a member of one of the parliaments of William IV, was asked by one of his constituents, who chanced to be in town at the time, for an order of admission into the house. With his characteristic disposition to oblige Sir — immediately complished with the request and wrote an order in the usual terms and addressed it thus, "To the Door Keeper of the House of Commons." The person for whom it was intended discovered the errors in the spelling after he had gone 10 or 12 yards from the worthy baronet, and turning back and running up to him said: "Oh, Sir —, there is a slight mistake in your order. Two letters have been transposed. You have spelled 'keeper' with a c instead of a k,
and 'commons' with a k instead of a c."
"That's all right," was the answer. "The doorkeeper will see to it. He is sure to know which is which."

The Consumption of Bread.
We have been so accustomed to regard bread as the staff of life, the one essential food, that it is rather astonishing to be assured, as the statisticians are beginning to assure us, that it is going out of use as an article of consumption. Certainly the figures seem to bear out that assurance. The shrinkage of the world's wheat area, taken in connection with the increase of population, the increase in grazing area, and the enormous and varied supply of fruits and vegetables as compared with what used to be available, all point in the same direction. We eat less bread and more meat and fruit, a fact that, we fancy, most people will verify in the limited field of personal observation.—

A Rhyming Bible.
In the library of Glasgow university
there is a rhyming Bible, the work of the eccentric old divine, Zachary Boyd.
He conceived the idea of rewording the sacred book in rhyme, a task which had to some extent been undertaken by several writers, among whom may be mentioned the Saxon Chedmon and Tattall and Boyd's rhyming version of the Psalms. Zachary Boyd gave full play to his imagination and produced a work of abiding interest and curiosity, though it has never yet been printed.—London
